

Submission instructions

1. You receive a link to a github page.
2. On github, you accept the invitation. You can form teams when submitting A2.
3. For subsequent assignments, use the existing team names (no need to form a new team for every assignment).
4. A repository is automatically created for the team, possibly with starter code for the assignment
5. Each team member clones the repository on his/her local machine.
6. The assignment is done collaboratively by the team members using git.
7. The final version of your software should be committed and pushed to the remote before the deadline. Any commit after the deadline will be ignored.
